OVERVIEW

Agile Transformation Leaders Network

Gaining the benefits of Agile has its challenges!

What experiences do other transformation leaders have that you might learn from?

How do you find those people?

How do you make time to have productive conversations with them?

Vision

For individuals charged with improving Agile practices in their organizations, the Agile Transformation Leaders Network is a peer-based learning community that enables its members to share experiences and solutions to common organizational and technical Agile transformation challenges.

Unlike volunteer-run organizations, the private, professionally-facilitated, member-supported model enables members to gain practical, relevant learning on a regular cadence without the hassle of running an organization, setting up meetings, or finding speakers and participants.

“Show up, inquire together,
find solutions.”

Stop re-inventing the wheel!

- Find out from other organizations what has worked and what hasn't

Find real solutions, on-tap

- Members get to know each other's context, improving quality of discussion and ideas
- Reach out to peers between meetings for advice and ideas via private Slack workspace

Drive relevant, timely discussions

- Topic selection guided by members
- Facilitator creates framework to maximize learning
